OLD RIVER PILOT, CAPT. WOOLFOLK, HAS PASSED AWAY

Dies This Morning at Home of W. E. Cochran—Buried Tomorrow.

John P. Aaron Succumbs to Bright's Disease.

MRS. CATHERINE ENDRESS.

Captain N. A. (Alex) Woolfolk, 84 years old, for 20 years pilot on the Little Owen and known to all old Paducahians, died this morning at 8:45 o'clock at the country home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cochran, Captain Woolfolk was a native of St. Charles, Mo., but had spent most of his life in Paducah. He had been in ill health a year or more, and old age was the cause of his death. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Cochran, and Miss Lydia Woolfolk, of St. Louis, both of whom were at his bedside when he died. The funeral will be held at the residence tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, the Rev. M. L. Addis officiating. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery. Those desiring to attend the funeral will assemble at Nance & Rogers parlors, Sixth street and Broadway, at 8:30 o'clock.

John P. Aaron.
After several years of ill health, John P. Aaron, 74 years old, a well known painter and contractor, died last night at 8:45 o'clock at Riverside hospital. His death was due to Bright's disease, although last September he suffered a stroke of paralysis and since has been confined to his bed.

For about 40 years Mr. Aaron has made Paducah his home, having come to Paducah from Dover, Tenn., soon after the Civil war. He gained many friends during his long residence here and was known as a quiet and peaceable citizen. His wife died several years ago. He is survived by his sons, John, Lena, Wear, and four sons, John, Wallace and Robert Aaron, of Paducah, and Charles Aaron, of Louisville. One brother, Will Aaron, of Memphis, also survives.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Nance & Rogers funeral chapel, the Rev. D. W. Pook, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery. He resided at 732 South Fourth street.

The pallbearers will be: Henry Henneberger, J. J. Webb, James Collins, Henry Ringer, James Dunn and C. W. Menham.

Mrs. Catherine Endress.
Mrs. Catherine Endress, 78 years old, widow of Casper Endress, died at 6:10 o'clock Sunday morning at her home, 834 North Eighth street, of paralysis, which affected her throat and her condition is serious from that time. She had been in poor health for several years.

Mrs. Endress was born in Germany and when she was six years old she came to this country with her parents. They lived at Pomeroy, O. In 1850 she was married to Casper Endress and they came to Paducah in the same year. Mrs. Endress had resided here since and lived at 834 North Eighth street for 51 years. She was a member of the German Evangelical church, on South Fourth street. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Lizzie Goodman, Mrs. Barbara Henby, Mrs. John Endress, Mrs. John Sanders and Mrs. Julia Quenegesser, of Livingston, Montana. The funeral services were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the residence, the Rev. H. W. Hurwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Endress also leaves two sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Mary Olinaker, of Springfield, O. She leaves two brothers, Messrs. Peter and Michael Fisher, of Ohio.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. James Howell, Edward Pearson, Thomas Hoyle, William H. Voor, Thomas Everts and Lucien Durrett.

Murcell Eva Crayton.
Murcell Eva, the two-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crayton, of Tyler, died at 8:10 o'clock Saturday evening of indigestion. The funeral was held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

Says Wrong Defendant.
In the personal injury damage suit filed by J. Cunningham in circuit court against Edgar Barnhardt, Mr. Barnhardt claims that the defendant should be his brother.

Longest Aeroplane Flight, From New York to Philadelphia, Made Today by Hamilton Without Stop

Feat Performed in Record
Time Without Mishap—
Beats Train Time Through Air—Return Trip.

New York, June 13.—Starting here at 7:38 this morning Charles H. Hamilton, in a Curtiss aeroplane, arrived at Philadelphia, 86 miles distant, at 9:28. At Governor's Island he took the air at 7:36, circled about for a test and then headed southwestward at an altitude of 500 feet.

In the earlier trial he smoothed his propeller on a hidden log. The accident didn't affect Hamilton, the changed propeller.

He passed Elizabeth at 7:54. A special train left at the same time, acting as path-finder. He passed Trenton at 8:50 at a lower altitude. He landed without a mishap at Philadelphia.

The start of the flight was made under propitious weather conditions, not a breath of air stirring. The accident to the propeller making the run to get in the air, delayed the start 20 minutes.

He will try a return here today.

Hamilton spent the night at Governor's Island. He arose early and tested his machine. Several thousand people gathered at the island to witness the start of the flight. Hamilton placed about him a life preserver from the government tug, the only precaution he took in the event of falling into the bay. He wore an oilskin coat and no hat.

At the first start, just as he was ready to go in the air, the machine crossed a log buried in the sand. One end flew up and struck the propeller.

The time of Hamilton's remarkable flight was 7:38 at the start from Governor's Island, at 7:54 he passed over Elizabeth, at 8:05 he passed over Rahway, at 8:50 he passed over Trenton, at 9:04 he passed over Bristol, Pa., at 9:16 he passed over Holmsburg, Pa., at 9:28 he arrived in Philadelphia.

The distance by air line is 86 miles. His average height was 500 feet. Hamilton's flight is the longest cross-country flight without any stop over in America. Curtiss has the longest flight without a stop, 75 miles. He traveled at a speed greater than an express train between the two cities. He covered the distance at an average of 18 miles an hour.

Trains make the distance in two hours.

His Arrival.
Philadelphia, June 13.—On his arrival here a policeman was the first to greet Hamilton. Governor Stuart introduced him to spectators among the thousands. Hamilton delivered a letter from Governor Hughes, of New York, to him, and received his thanks. He also carried greetings from the New York Times to the Public Ledger, under whose auspices the flight was made. He started on his return flight at 11:35.

Hamilton alighted about 1 o'clock on account of his engine missing badly. At Metuchen he polished the engine, and it will be necessary for him to have the aeroplane hauled out before he can again rise. He is expected to continue the flight at 3 o'clock.

Hamilton passed over Metuchen at 12:42 and over Trenton at 12:03, making faster time than on the first trip. He went over Elizabeth at 11:58 and descended on the shore of the Raritan river near South

Lake Como is Being Searched For Body

Como, Italy, June 13.—Convicted that there can be little progress made in unraveling the mystery of the murder of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton until the part played in the crime by Porter Charlton, her missing husband, is determined, police began today a second dragging of Lake Como and will dig up the ground around the villa, which the Charltons occupied. The lake is being dragged in the belief that if Charlton, too, was murdered, his body probably was thrown in the

The predictions and temperature for the past twenty-four hours will be found at the top of the seventh column on page four.

ST. LOUIS MYSTERY.
St. Louis, June 13.—Dr. John Grant, widely known as a surgeon, was shot and fatally wounded in his home by an unidentified man, who made his escape. A. W. Hayne, a former patient of the doctor, was arrested.

Amboy, N. J., and began tinkering with the machine.

After World's Records.
Indianapolis, June 13.—Eleven aviators will start in the national aviation meet which will open this afternoon at the Indianapolis Speedway and continue throughout the week. The entrants will try for world's records in the chronicle achievements of men flying in heavier than air machines.

Prizes are offered for match races for machines making the shortest surface start, for machines landing closest to the starting point, altitude, carrying more than one passenger, cross-country flights, returning to the aviation field, speed from one mile to ten, and gliding to earth with the motor shut off.

The Wright brothers have entered six airplanes, and William Wright is here to superintend their starting. The other entrants are: Joseph Curzon, with a Farman biplane; M. Marquette, with his own biplane; Russell Shaw, with a biplane of his construction; Lincoln Beachy with his monoplane and G. L. Thompson, with a Fisher-Indusmagis biplane built at the speedway.

FEUD BATTLE IN OLD BREATHITT

TRAVELING MEN REPORT TWO CRAWFORDS KILLED AND ONE MAN WOUNDED.

Richmond, Ky., June 13.—Traveling men today brought news of a big killing in Breathitt county, Ky. which they say two Crawford men were killed and a man by the name of Johnson was wounded. Nothing further could be learned.

GUS THOMPSON; ALEX KIRKLAND

FORER FOR POLICE BOARD, LATTER FOR CITY
AUDITOR.

Mayor Smith will make three appointments in a short time. Alex Kirkland, city auditor, will be re-appointed in July, and Gus Thompson will succeed Mann Clark on the board of police and fire commissioners. Connelman W. L. Fowler told the mayor that he has moved out of the Sixth ward and it is up to the mayor to appoint his successor. Following his custom of appointing to vacancies men of the same political affiliations as the ones they succeed, the mayor probably will name a Republican in the Sixth.

Mr. George Dittols is out of the city today on business.

BRIEFS FILED IN BALLINGER CASE WITH COMMITTEE

Take Choice Between Believing Parties Traitors on Heroic Patriots.

Settlement of Railroad Rate
Bill in Sight.

WILL ADJOURN WITHIN MONTH.

Washington, June 13.—Briefs were filed today in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy with the investigating committee. The committee is asked to reward Glavis as a "patriot" by Brandeis, as a "traitor and snake" by Vertrees. It is asked to regard Pinchot as a "zealous advocate of good government," by Pepper and as an "arch conspirator, seeking to destroy the good name of a cabinet officer," by Vertrees. The entire case is reviewed.

Pepper disclaimed Vertrees' "conspiracy" charges as trivial. Vertrees calls Stenographer Kerby, who exposed the Lawler draft, a "traitor" and "conscience" and accuses him of "making a treasonable publication." Brandeis says: "In our opinion the record discloses Ballinger's knowledge of the situation and shows his hostility to the people's interests, the co-operation with the special interests, striving to take the people's property unlawfully."

Pepper says: "Whatever may be the committee's report, I trust they'll record the conviction that the immediate care of the public domain is now in unsafe hands."

Vertrees says: "It is no idle thing to assault the character of a member of the cabinet. He is one of the advisors of the president and dishonorable conduct on his part not only brings disgrace to him as an individual, but reproach on the government. The prosecution is cruel and baseless."

Adjournment in Sight.
Washington, June 13.—The committee on the administration railroad bill was in session more than six hours and made such progress as led them to predict that they will be able to report to congress early this week, probably not later than Wednesday.

In the tentative draft that has been made up from the bills as they were passed by the house and senate, the only two questions that remain in serious dispute are those relating to long and short hauls and the period that increases in rates should be suspended to give the interstate commerce commission time to pass upon their reasonableness.

With an agreement on the railroad bill in sight, the members of congress are beginning to figure on adjournment. Few members of either branch now expect the session to last longer than Thursday, June 30, and not a few have put their guesses as early as Saturday, June 25. Some of the employees of the committee on appropriations have consulted their records and found that the long sessions usually adjourn in about fifteen days after the reporting of the general deficiency bill, the last of the great supply measures. To this calculation was due in large part the predictions that the session would end on the last day of next week.

Much to Be Done.
There are not many matters of legislation remaining which are expected to consume much time. A canvass of the senate indicated a decided sentiment in favor of adopting the house amendments to the postal savings bank bill. This course would avoid a conference and might easily save two or three days. The summary civil bill probably will be passed by the senate, and the general deficiency bill never is held up long in the senate.

The bill to authorize the president to withdraw public lands for conservation purposes is the only one of the conservation measures slated to go through this session. To that will be added, it is expected, the bill which has already passed the senate, to permit the issuance of certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $30,000,000 to complete reclamation projects. It ought not to require more than a week to complete this bill.

The opposition to the conservation bill, based upon the statement issued by former Forester Gifford Pinchot that it contains a clause which would authorize the filing of mineral claims on certain water power sites known to be underlain by minerals, apparently has not been generally accepted as a serious criticism.

Railroad Bill is Key.

Youth Under Arrest, Charged With Pool Road Murder, Declares That Guy Dean His Companion is Guilty

Detectives Work and City Police Effect Capture on the Strength of Statements
Made by a Woman.

"The victim of the Pool road murder is not 'Red' McLoyle, the race track man," said Detective James Collins today.

The murder was committed, according to the confession of Thomas Farren by Guy Dean. The boys were in the Shelton woman's house and they agreed to go out and rob somebody. The unknown red-headed youth was the first person they met. Dean struck him and Farren ran. Farren supposes Dean went back and finished his work. Dean and his woman left Paducah immediately.

Guy Dean is charged with the killing of "Red" McLoyle. In a confession made this afternoon by Thomas Farren the youth in the county jail, charged with the murder. Dean is at large. He lives on Buchanan street and is the friend of Farren. Before confessing, Farren asked Tomkeys Whittemore and Carter to send for his uncle, Turner Anderson, and he himself talked over the phone with the Shelton woman, whom he admonished to remember certain facts. Then Mr. Anderson and Detective James Collins were closeted with the youth.

Farren said he and Dean made it up to murder, Dean was to commit the crime and he was to search the boy's pockets. He said Dean struck the victim, and then he became frightened and ran. Dean went back but he did not see any more.

Farren said he didn't know who their victim was. They were going to Mayfield and all three were bound for the south yards. Dean said: "I'll kill him if you will rob him." The fellow yelled so loud it frightened Farren.

With the arrest of Thomas Farren Saturday afternoon by Detective T. J. Moore on the charge of the murder of the red-headed youth, supposed to be Tom or "Red" McLoyle, a jockey, who was found on the Pool road in Littleville Sunday morning, April 10, with his head beat in, the detectives and police department have concluded that the murder grew out of a drunken brawl and the apprehension of two witnesses will play an important part. Farren is in the county jail, and, although his trial has been set for tomorrow in police court it will be continued for several more days.

The arrest grew out of a conversation between Farren and Nettle Shelton, a woman of the underworld, last Friday night.

Farren is 20 years old and lives at 613 Elizabeth street. He drove an express wagon and generally hung around Second street and Kentucky avenue, where his arrest took place. A short time ago he got a divorce from Nellie Farren. He is the son of Charles Farren, who was killed several years ago in a railroad wreck. Mrs. Kate Farren is his step-mother and Mrs. Walter Clark is his sister. He inherited several hundred dollars from the estate of his grandmother, Mrs. Annie Mills, and is related to prominent families here.

The identification of the dead boy is a question, but Detective Moore is convinced that the boy was "Red" or "Irish" McLoyle or McLoyle, a jockey, who came to Paducah last year. The body was identified as McLoyle by Messrs. Will Love, Wes Flowers, Kroch Lynn and several others who knew him. Prior to the identification of the body as that of her son by Mrs. Nellie Thompson, of Birmingham, Ala. McLoyle came from Ireland and his speech was broken. He is not supposed to have any relatives on this side of the water.

The theory of the detectives and police now is that McLoyle and his companion attempted to take Farren and Guy Dean's girls away from them. They were Mrs. Dora Blackwell and Nettle Shelton. It is the theory that McLoyle was knocked in the head while at the house, and packed into the woods, where he received the fatal blow.

He lands assert that there could be very few water-power sites afforded. No decision has been reached as to statehood legislation, but the general impression seems to be that nothing will be done at the present session. Even if the bill reported from the senate committee on territories should be passed, it differs so completely from the house bill that there would be slight chance for any agreement in conference.

The railroad bill therefore appears to be the key to the adjournment situation, just as it has been for nearly four months. When that is out of the way and the measure has been approved by President Taft, members of congress can lay their plans to go home.

MEMPHIS SCANDAL.

Memphis, Tenn., June 13.—Hugh Knott, city engineer; Cornelius Dwyer and C. M. Cole, prominent men, were arrested today in connection with the theft of cotton of a value estimated at $200,000 from five railroads entering Memphis. It is alleged they entered on a conspiracy to steal cotton in the past three years.

gained consciousness and showed fight. Then, it is believed, that his murderer ended his work by picking up a piece of stove wood and striking the boy across the left temple. Leaves were then stuffed into his mouth to muffle his groans.

Today passed with no new developments. Farren probably will be put through the "third degree" unless he talks at a short time. Efforts are being made to locate Guy Dean, a partner of Farren, and Mrs. Blackwell, upon whom hinge some concluding evidence.

The Arrest.
After laying all plans for Farren's arrest and concluding a consultation

NEWSPAPER FIRE PAYS DEATH TOLL

THIRTY EMPLOYEES OF MON-
TEAL HERALD MISSING—WALLS FALL.

Montreal, June 13.—The Montreal Herald building was destroyed by fire and a number of employees are reported caught in the debris and burned. Fifteen are missing, but the number of dead can not be learned until the ruins cool. A water tank caused the wall to collapse and a gas explosion followed. The loss is $200,000.

The big water tank that caused the catastrophe was constructed over the middle of the building, and apparently was not sufficiently braced. It fell three stories, through the bindery, editorial rooms and job department. Fire broke out immediately afterward. Firemen are unable to get into that part of the building where the bodies are.

An unofficial list of killed gives the number as 30 and 35 injured. The water tank fell through the bindery and printing rooms, where mostly girl printers worked.

Roosevelt Salute

Washington, June 13.—Roosevelt will be greeted with 21 guns, fired from a man of war, when the steamer he is aboard appears off Sandy Hook, at the order of President Taft, issued today.

Washington, June 13.—The railroad bill conference met again and it is predicted they will render their report by Wednesday.

HASKELL SASSY TO THE SHERIFF

WON'T BE SERVED WITH PRO-CESS OF INFERIOR COURT
AS GOVERNOR.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 13.—Following the issuance of a statement by Governor Haskell, declaring the capital to be located here, an application for a temporary injunction, restraining the state officials from removing the books and records from Guthrie, was filed before United States District Judge Cotter. The application is under consideration. When Sheriff Mahoney tried to serve the governor with notice of the injunction granted by the county court, he was ordered away with a threat of imprisonment. Haskell said: "The attorney general has said the supreme court can't mandamus the governor. I'm not going to let any damned man serve papers on me from a subordinate court."

All state officers are now in Oklahoma City, but it is not believed any official business will be transacted here till the vote is canvassed. Temporary quarters will be occupied by officers, during the erection of the proposed million dollar buildings.

SOMEBODY SHOT TAYLOR, BUT WHO IT IS NOT KNOWN

His Right Eye is Removed at Riverside Hospital by Surgeons.

His Companion is in Jail, But Reluctant.

BULLET HIDDEN IN HIS JAW

With his right eye shot out by a pistol ball, Will Taylor, who has a police record, was taken to Dr. B. L. Bradley's office, Fourth street and Broadway, about 10 o'clock last night by Ed Wood, a chum. Wood was placed under arrest on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, and is being held in connection with the shooting affray, which is being investigated by the police department.

Taylor was taken to Riverside hospital and an operation was performed at midnight by Drs. Bradley and Acece. His right eye was removed but the bullet could not be located, having buried itself in the upper jaw.

Facts in regard to the shooting are not known to the police and so far Taylor has not spoken. The shooting is thought to have taken place near the southern limits of the city or outside, although there are several opinions as to where it took place. Taylor and Wood were seen riding together Sunday and last night Wood drove up to Dr. Bradley's office with his wounded partner. Taylor and Wood had been drinking heavily and while Dr. Bradley was giving Taylor temporary attention he overheard Wood tell him to "keep mum about it. Taylor evidently agreed and told Dr. Bradley he was not going to talk unless he changed his mind after he got well.

Wood refused to make any statement about the shooting at the city jail today. His trial was postponed until Wednesday morning. He admitted being in company with Taylor, but said he knew nothing of the shooting. An investigation has begun by the police and several witnesses will be summoned in the case. From the bullet wound Taylor received, Dr. Bradley said he must have been shot from above, owing to the course of the ball. It entered just over the right eye, severing the optic nerve and lodging in the upper jaw. Taylor is improving and will recover.

Crowd at Ball Game

Another large crowd of fans was out this afternoon at League park to see the second game of the series between Paducah and Vincennes. The fact that the team has just completed a long road trip caused a large week-day crowd to be out. The weather was warm and the players gingered up lively. Manager Nairn selected Gossnell to twirl for Vincennes, while Manager Cooper warmed up Harris and Guinn.

LIBERAL GOVERNMENT REPLIES TO ROOSEVELT

London, June 13.—The government today made answer to Roosevelt's Guild hall speech by declaring Sir Eldon Gorst, British consul in Egypt, enjoys the government's fullest confidence. The reply was made by Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, in answer to a query in the house of parliament from Sir Henry Dalziel.

AMERICAN IN NICARAGUA SPIRITED TO MANAGUA

Bluefields, June 13.—William Pittman, the American captured by Madriz troops, has been spirited to Managua from here to be placed on trial with General Matute, Estrada's commander. It was supposed that he was virtually under American protection, but it was discovered today he had been taken away on a sloop. Reports here are that prisoners at Managua are being badly treated. Estrada is planning the establishment of a new Nicaragua to include half the present territory.

Games Today and Tomorrow.
 Vincennes at Paducah.
 Hopkinsville at Clarksville (Two games).

Before a whooping bunch of fans the Indians slipped on a thick coat of whitewash on the Vincennes team yesterday afternoon 5 to 0. It was one of the prettiest games played on the local diamond since the Kitty came back to life. The Indians played splendid ball, and pulled out of several tight holes without marring the shutout record, which was the second for the Alices in two days. The Vincennes team was guilty of some dumb playing, and should have scored only for bad base running.

Crain was on the slab for Paducah, and the tall pitcher had his curves breaking right while the Hoosiers tried in every manner to slug the ball. Only four succeeded in banging out anything like safeties. While Nairn's team was going out the Indians were becoming better acquainted with the left hand shoots and curves of Williams every inning, and at the end of the fray ten bingles had been secured.

Paducah started the run getting in the first inning amid the cheers of the fans. F. Williams was first up and struck out. Cooper followed with a hit to left field. Angermier knocked a high one to Dehaven, Block knocked a scorcher to center and Cooper went to second. Lockhart trimmed the ball for a single to right, and Cooper went to third, but was afraid to venture home. However, in a minute Fish let a ball get away and the Indian manager scored. Cox struck out and the opportunity for more scores was ended.

In the fourth inning Paducah added another. Cox started off by fanning. Overton rapped one to left and Overton scored the second run. Crain laid one down to Williams, but Tidwell was thrown out at the pan. In crossing the rubber Tidwell spiked Fish on the instep of the left foot. It was necessary for Fish to retire from the game.

Nothing more was doing until the eighth inning, when Vincennes lost all opportunity of tying the game. The Indians swung their mighty war clubs with great effect, and straightened out the left hand offerings of Williams. Block was first up and lined out his second hit of the day, a beauty to left. Lockhart hit hot one to left and was safe. Block and Lockhart each advanced a sack on passed ball of Johnson, who walked leisurely after the sphere. Cox pilfered second and Lockhart scored on the throw back of pitcher to nab Lockhart at the plate. Overton was out on attempt to hunt third strike, while Tidwell sacrificed Cox to third base. Crain hit to center garden and Cox walked home. Williams ended the inning by striking out.

Vincennes looked dangerous in the sixth inning. Dehaven, first up, was safe on a fumble by Williams. Stanley walked. Jantzen made a neat sacrifice. Hurst hit to Williams and was safe at first, and then stole second. Dehaven tried to score but was thrown out at the pan when the ball traveled from Crain to Cox to Williams to Overton.

Jantzen was thrown out trying to steal second, and Nairn ended the chances of victory by going out Williams to Cooper. Several times Vincennes had runners on the sacks, but the team was not dangerous with the exception of the sixth.

Diamond Dust.
 Williams, who played short for Hopkinsville, has signed with Paducah. He was let go by Hoptown, who secured a new shortstop named Lynch. Williams is playing while "Dummy" Payne is pitching.

Wear, the college infielder, is due to arrive this afternoon from Nashville, and will go to work as an Indian. He is in good condition already by playing college baseball.

Vonore, who has been captain and shortstop for the Hoptown baseball team in Louisville, will arrive this week for a tryout with the Indians. He is said to be one of the crack players of the fast teams around Louisville, and no doubt will make good in the Kitty.

Angermier says that the press reports of the game while the team was on the road did him an injustice in regard to dropping flies. In one of the Clarksville games the little outfielder was given credit for nearly losing a game when his stickwork was what turned the tide.

Vincennes did not look dangerous yesterday. The visitors lacked inside baseball. They must have permitted Mr. Condit to take it away with him. In practice they played with a snap, but it was not there in the game.

Took fifth Saturday.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 13.—Paducah captured both games of a double header and crawled out of last place Saturday afternoon. It was agreed to play two games of six innings each, but it was necessary to play eight innings for each game before the victory was finally won by the Indians. The first game was captured by a score of 5 to 2, while Harris in the box. The second game was 5 to 3 in favor of Paducah with Guilan working for the Indians.

Score— R H E
 Paducah 5 15 6
 Hopkinsville 2 7 3
 Batteries: Paducah—Harris and Overton; Hopkinsville—Yon and Craner.

Paducah got three scores in the first inning of the second game, but in the fifth and sixth the Night Riders tied the score, and the two teams struggled until the eighth inning, when the Indians put over two runners.
Score— R H E
 Paducah 5 8 2
 Hopkinsville 3 6 3
 Batteries: Paducah—Gunn and Overton; Hopkinsville—Dowd, Blesop and Wesley, Craner.

Protest Victory.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 13.—Vincennes protested Saturday's game on ground rules. Clarksville won by a score of 4 to 0. Manager Nairn was benched for disputing decisions.

Score— R H E
 Clarksville 4 10 2
 Vincennes 0 11 0
 Batteries: Vincennes—L. Johnson and Fish; Clarksville—Hoyt and McWilliams.

Wednesday Ladies' Day.

Wednesday will be ladies' day at League park, and it is expected that the fair sex will be out to see the closing game of the series between Paducah and Vincennes. It is the intention of the Paducah club to have ladies' days frequently when at home, so that the custom of ladies attending the ball games may be encouraged. The lady fans, however, have taken great interest in the ball games and none of the games have been stag affairs.

Hooks Fall to Go.
 The Hooks failed to fill their engagement yesterday with the Brookport Eagles at Brookport. Some of the Hook players were unable to make the trip, and rather than go with a crippled team, the game was cancelled.

Welles Lost.

THE LECTURE

MEETS WITH GREAT SUCCESS
EVERYWHERE.

Pass Notices for Attraction Paducah-

The Memphis Commercial Appeal, commenting on an address delivered in Memphis by Prof. J. C. Monaghan, who will speak here Thursday night,
under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, says:

"From Canada to the Gulf, from Maine to California, there is room for just one flag, and that is the Red White-and-blue." So declared Prof.
J. C. Monaghan, lecturer for the Knights of Columbus, last night at the Jefferson, when he was speaking with enthusiasm of the United States and its glorious opportunities. He declared that there are many foreigners in this country who hold meetings for the purpose of denouncing the American flag, and who teach their children to hate it long before they can speak English.

Tying to the general theme of progress he drew parallel pictures between the New England cotton mill in which he worked when a little boy and that mill of today, from which wage legislation has excluded children.
He was caustic in his comment on the managers of these old-time mills, and declared that it was these same men who had caused the stigma of Herod to be set on the South by moving their plants down here,

where child labor could be had cheap.
He declared that the south needs an influx of trained foreign workers, such as New England received, in order to increase her industrial facilities.

Of industrial activity the speaker had much to say. He showed that back of the age of Pericles and the Renaissance lay the commerce of a progressive people. Of industrial education he had more to say. He showed that this country is spending $100,000,000 a year on education, that of the 13,000,000 children who at school less than 600,000 are the training that fits them for life work.

Kills Twenty Wolves.
In one day Henry Davidson, living near here, killed twenty wolves and gathered in $40 in cash.

For more than three months
Davidson had kept an eye on two wolf dens near the Nibbana river, four miles south of here. A few days ago, considering the time ripe,
he swooped down upon his prey.
Taking his hired man along, they found eight baby wolves in one den.
These they killed, and going to the other den, half a mile distant, found that the mother wolf was at home.

Twice she appeared at the mouth of the hole growling and snapping at her enemies. Retreating, she would take her litter of pups to the extreme end of the hole and burrow
further into the sand.

After two hours' work Davidson came upon the mother and her young, eleven in number, and after a fight killed them. The scalps of the twenty wolves were taken to the county seat, where Davidson was paid a bounty of $2 each.—New York World.

No More Throwing Away Land.
At the time when the homestead law was passed, land was abundant, the hardships of travel great, markets few and distant, and 160 acres to each settler seemed not an extravagant allotment. Often the land was really worth no more than the $1.25 per acre for which, after a few months' residence could be commuted. But now hardly an acre on the reservations is worth less than $6 or $7. Often it is worth over $50 an acre, unimproved. Railroads carry the settler within a short distance of almost every tract. Markets are available on every hand. An allotment, then, of even 40 acres of unirrigated land is worth from five to 10 times as much as when the homestead law was enacted. On irrigated land it is, of course, worth even more.

The government has seen the folly of giving away 160 acres of irrigated land to each settler and has,
as permitted by law, cut down individual allotments of such land to 80, 40, and in some cases even so little as 20 acres. The latter is twice as much as is necessary to support a family on such land. Under the improved methods of modern agriculture, even on nonirrigated land, 20 acres is enough. Why, then, continue the extravagant allowance of 160 acres?

Decliner With Thanks.
"Are you fond of etchings?"
asked the young man who had taken the hostess' pretty niece from the country down to supper.

"As a general thing, yes," she answered, looking up into his eyes with an engaging frankness that threatened havoc to his heart;
"but," she added, hastily, as he started to say something pretty,
"not any tonight, thank you; it is rather late. A small piece of jelly will be sufficient."—The Dits.

Daily Thought.

One throne of experience is worth a whole wilderness of warning.—James Russell Lowell.

New York will soon be preparing to celebrate the leather jubilee of the Thaw trial.

It promises to be a noiseless, vacuum operating, ball bearing, rubber-tired Fourth.

Tomorrow is Flag day, and all over the land flags will fly from public buildings and many private residences.

We are not pessimistic by nature but we would hate to know as much about most people, as the tax assessor is compelled to.

We never may hope for the return of the sweet fellowship and confidence in our friends of those innocent days, when we chewed the same stick of wax, turn and turn about.

A contemporary observed yesterday that it was time to receive some wireless messages from the good ship, which is hearing our Teddy home. The news association, of which the Evening Sun is a member, had one Saturday.

The Clinton Gazette remarks that legislative disclosures indicate that the public must be more particular in choosing its representatives. We move to amend the suggestion by substituting for the word "public," the words "you and I."

THE COMING STRUGGLE.

"Put the special interests out of politics," is the central thought in the speech delivered by Gifford Pinchot before the Roosevelt club at St. Paul, and this stamps Mr. Pinchot as a practical man rather than a philosopher. Were he the latter, he could see how the relations of the interests to politics was a reflection of the attitude of the country, during the era we are leaving, and how the assembly he addressed is representative of the dawning era. In contrast to Mr. Pinchot's attitude, an old time Republican who participated in the birth of the party, yesterday announced in Chicago his withdrawal from the party, and his call to Democracy to espouse the old time theories of individual and industrial liberties with Harmon as its candidate. He declared the Republican party has gone over to Socialism; that is enacted an employers' liability law, founded on a new theory; it taxes corporations, exposes their innermost secrets, makes rates for railroads, restrains their freedom in issuing stocks, would establish a postal savings bank, stop the rapid development of coal and mineral lands, the pre-emption of public domain and use of water power sites.

He learned his political lessons in ages when property was placed above human rights in public estimation, when the only virtue required of an administration was to maintain prosperity; when the man who amassed a large fortune was held up by the Shadyside school teacher as model of thrift and economy for the young hopefuls of the land. We anticipate the struggle, which this Chicago man proposes. Just as the Democratic party left Bryan in

ON THE CARE OF THE TEETH

It is perfectly certain that the colossal spread of dental decay in all classes of the population carries with it a great danger to public health, and this fact cannot be emphasized too often and too loudly. The neglect of the teeth is perhaps one of the earliest most immediate and most far-reaching causes of disease, a fact which alone should urge the advisability of making dental hygiene a matter of public instruction.

Nowhere do human beings congregate more closely and constantly than in the school room, and nowhere can contagious diseases be more easily propagated. Light and air and cleanliness of face, hands and apparel on the part of children are now considered indispensable requirements in nearly every public school throughout the country.

But the fact is utterly disregarded that a single unclean mouth, despite all superficial precautions, may vitiate the atmosphere of a school room and become fruitful source of disease. Professor Miller, of Berlin, estimates that there are one billion one hundred and forty million (1,140,000,000) germs in an unclean mouth, many of them pathogenic, that is, disease producing. If this be true, then there is 24 inches of exposed surface to a mouth, in a school room of 40 children that would make 960 square inches, almost six square feet. Suppose there was an opening of a sewer in each of our school rooms of six square feet, throwing out all sorts of disease producing germs, such as tuberculosis, diphtheria, pneumonia and scarlet fever, four diseases most fatal to the youth of our land, we believe the parents would be the first to file a complaint and go before the board of health and demand that something be done. And yet these are facts that almost 90 per cent of our school children have defective teeth.

In Louisville in the examination of the teeth of one of their public schools, "Twelfth Ward School, West End," out of 1,364 children examined 659 never used a toothbrush, 1,042 children had cavities in their teeth. Could give you more, but this is a fair average all over the city.

In Cleveland, O., one of the schools, out of 1,800 children examined, only 400 had good teeth. This is a fair average, for space forbids more.

Now how about our own city—Paducah? Will you find conditions any better? Not at all. Perhaps worse. All the fresh air you can force into a school room by the latest ventilating apparatus will only dilute the fetid odor, so long as 40 or 60 unkept mouths are exhaling the products of decomposition. Contributed.

1904 and took up Parker a representative of the big financial interests of the east, to oppose Roosevelt, the party of state rights, individualism and free competition—with no holds barred, and may the best man win—should select the issue of "paternalism" for the next campaign. It has a Bryanlike flavor, not unlike "Imperialism," which became the text of many flamboyant stump speeches in the campaign preceding the election and assassination of McKinley. Moreover, Judson Harmon, a Democrat of the Cleveland type, one of Cleveland's most trusted cabinet advisors, a man of affairs, of pre-eminent executive ability and personal integrity, which stood the fiery test of a bitter campaign in a state with 280,000 adverse majority, should lend a harmonious personality to the issue. Everything that could be said against Judson Harmon was said before he was elected governor of Ohio. But Judson Harmon is no wise in sympathy with the new spirit of the times; he has been a great railroad manager, attorney for large industrial interests and proferre the regulation of politics by business to a regulation of business by politics.

He would present the doctrinaire side of Democracy in its most logical manner, and the result of his utterances would be quickly to dispel the illusion that a free trader is the best friend of the industrial classes.

We hope for a clear cut fight on this issue. The sentiment of the country for or against the progressive ideas of Roosevelt and Taft should be registered before irrevocable steps are taken by indifference. We hope the tariff will be removed as an issue before the next campaign by an honest revision of the Payne chedule, based upon data furnished by the president's tariff commission. That will leave the country free to consider the more profound question.

RUFFLING THE EAGLE'S FEATHERS.

Our esteemed friends of the Brookport Eagle, whose enthusiasm for and devotion to the interests of that portion of Macon county, in which his paper circulates, provokes our unalloyed admiration mistakes the attitude of The Evening Sun (we will not believe he would wilfully pervert the facts from malicious motives) when he reiterates the charge that The Evening Sun is discriminating in favor of the Metropolis bridge etc. If he gives us credit for sense enough to build up the circulation The Evening Sun possesses, he must credit us with sense enough to prefer a bridge at Paducah to a bridge at Metropolis.

But we are not building this bridge: The Burlington Railroad company is building the bridge; the company has had expert engineers working up and down the river, taking soundings for piers and comparing physical conditions in relation to prospective approaches, and much to our chagrin the engineers have not even consulted us as to our preference, not to mention inviting our advice on the merits of the several possible locations.

Unfortunately, we suspect some river interests don't care to have any more bridges over the river than they are compelled to permit; and some enterprising speculators have anticipated the location of a bridge above Brookport and secured options on land from which they expected to reap a rich reward when the Burlington would be forced to buy through them. We would not accuse our Eagle friend of a share in this enterprise; but we do suspect that his loyalty to Brookport has been worked on by these speculators since the Burlington has looked elsewhere for its bridge site.

In a communication published in Paducah, an alleged Brookport advocate mentioned the fact that S. A. Fowler, secretary of the Paducah Commercial club, acknowledged before the government engineers that he signed a petition to have the bridge at Paducah or Brookport. Mr. Fowler is in the same position as the Evening Sun, and there is nothing most six square feet. Suppose there was an opening of a sewer in each of our school rooms of six square feet, throwing out all sorts of disease producing germs, such as tuberculosis, diphtheria, pneumonia and scarlet fever, four diseases most fatal to the youth of our land, we believe the parents would be the first to file a complaint and go before the board of health and demand that something be done. And yet these are facts that almost 90 per cent of our school children have defective teeth.

In Louisville in the examination of the teeth of one of their public schools, "Twelfth Ward School, West End," out of 1,364 children examined 659 never used a toothbrush, 1,042 children had cavities in their teeth. Could give you more, but this is a fair average all over the city.

In Cleveland, O., one of the schools, out of 1,800 children examined, only 400 had good teeth. This is a fair average, for space forbids more.

Now how about our own city—Paducah? Will you find conditions any better? Not at all. Perhaps worse. All the fresh air you can force into a school room by the latest ventilating apparatus will only dilute the fetid odor, so long as 40 or 60 unkept mouths are exhaling the products of decomposition. Contributed.

ing incompetent in his attitude. If Mr. Fowler thought anything he could say would bring the bridge up here, he would be talking so hard the Brookport booster couldn't hear himself think, and the Eagle would be copying bridge editorials from The Evening Sun.

But Mr. Fowler knows—what we know—that our desire will not influence the Burlington officials after they are satisfied that the lower site is the most advantageous; and we are not going to lend our voice and influence to those who are more anxious to prevent a bridge crossing the river at all than they are to aid Brookport.

The fact that Paducah men made a fight for the bridge before the government board should be sufficient to absolve The Evening Sun from any guilty preference for the Metropolis site. These men are out for Paducah all the time; but they knew that there were interests at work trying to prevent the erection of a bridge, and they must suspect, as we do, that the communication in a local paper, abusing The Evening Sun, was inspired either by an enemy of the bridge or by one of the disappointed speculators.

Members of the Brookport Commercial club know that whenever they have called on The Evening Sun to publish anything to the advantage of our sister town, we have done so gladly and with a feeling of interest in it; but in this instance, we think local spirit is being worked by designing people and The Evening Sun declines to lend itself to their purposes.

We want that bridge, we wish it to be up here; but most of all we want it, if not here, then at Metropolis. The bridge there will not hurt Brookport. It will help Brookport not as much, we will admit, as if the bridge were right at Brookport but the man who owns property there will find the market stimulated by the development of this whole territory.

Be your quill, Brother Eagle, to decerate Brookport without; but not to jab futilely at The Sun, or to feather your own nest.

Some Stories Around the Town.

Guy Randle and Terry Malone returned this morning from Sanford Fla., where they have located and are successful farmers. As proof of their success they brought back samples of the produce of their farm. Several onions weighed 1½ pounds. During the rainy season in Florida they will remain in Paducah. Mr. Randle is the guest of his parents Englebar and Mrs. Joe Randle.

Mr. Will Cabell, foreman of the composing room of the News-Democrat has resigned, and will leave Sunday for Chicago to locate. Later he will be joined by his mother and Misses Eleanor, Sue and Allie Cabell and Mr. George Cabell. Mr. Cabell has been connected with the morning paper several years, but formerly worked for a large printing house in Chicago. The many friends of the family will regret their departure.

"Post Card Day" is the suggestion of one wide-awake citizen, who thinks it a good idea for a day to be so designated, when every citizen will "show himself" for a post card bearing a view of Paducah, and send it to some out-of-town friend. He believes that fifteen or twenty thousand cards, going abroad at once over the country, would turn the minds of many people to Paducah.

Captain George C. Crumbaugh, who recently disposed of his interest in the Fowler & Crumbaugh Boat Store company, will probably locate in Meridian, Miss., although he has not fully decided. Mr. Crumbaugh recently visited his son, Mr. Lee Crumbaugh, who is superintendent of the western division of the Southern Express company there, and as he has wound up his business interest here and retired, it is probable that he and his family will join his son there. For many years Mr. Crumbaugh was one of the leading business men of Paducah and has a host of friends. His family is one of the most prominent in this part of the state and their departure will be quite a loss to the city.

STATE PRESS

The New York Times is severe in its criticism of the president because he did not surrender unconditionally to the railroads. The Courier-Journal has begun a campaign to reconcile the public to a 200 million increase in freight charges, while it argues for free trade. The president is right in this matter; let him keep straight ahead and some orator in 1912 may declare in the Republican National convention, "We love him for the enemies he has made."—Louisville Post.

MURDER CHARGE

with Police Judge D. A. Cross, Detectives Moore and James Collins, walked to Second street and Kentucky avenue, where they waited a short time afterwards Mr. Collins pointed down the street when Farren appeared. Detective Moore walked up behind Farren, and, patting him on the back, said "Come along with me Tommy, I want to talk with you." Farren, somewhat surprised, obeyed and they walked slowly to Mr. Moore's office, where Farren was "awaited" for nearly one hour. Then Mr. Moore sent for Judge Cross and they together made an effort to bring forth a confession, but Farren clung to his statement that he was not guilty.

After 2 o'clock Mr. Moore concluded that it would be necessary to summon Nettle Shelton, a woman of the underworld, and a friend of Farren. The prisoner was then taken to the city hall and turned over to Chief of Police Sengery. After being accompanied by Nettle Shelton and Mrs. A. L. Redwood and Farren were formally accused of willful murder by Detective Moore. He was taken to the county jail and given a cell to await an examining trial which was set for tomorrow morning.

The Star Witnesses.
Mrs. Dora Blackwell, who is being sought as a star witness in the murder, has been missing from Paducah since the discovery of the body of the red haired youth. Guy Dean, attorney's pal, is also missing, and the presence of these two hang over and testimony.

On the night of Saturday, April 1, Mrs. Blackwell and Nettle Shelton, who occupied a house in the city, moved to a house just on the outskirts of the city limits on the old road. The supposed "Red" deluge, and another carried the furniture of the women to the house in an express wagon and are believed to have plotted to "cut out" Farren and Dean, who were to spend the night at the house. Farren and Dean went to the house, spending the night. This is admitted by both Farren and the Shelton girl, although Farren first claimed that he slept with Dean.

When Farren was taken before Judge Cross Saturday he said the next morning, April 10, after he awoke about 11 o'clock he engaged in a crap game with several others near the house. One man, he claims, was struck over the head with a club. This statement conflicts with the finding of the body, which was discovered at 9 o'clock that morning.

Mrs. Blackwell remained at the house until Thursday when she left the city presumably in the direction of Smithland, taking some clothes with her. It is said.

Nettle Shelton's Story.
Nettle Shelton, in her statement to Detective Moore, said that on the night of April 9 she was down town and went home late. She said Farren and Dean were at her home with Mrs. Blackwell. Nettle says she went to bed immediately and went to sleep, having aroused some time afterwards by Farren. The following day the body of the murdered boy was found, she claims Farren was greatly excited and was crying. When she asked what the trouble was he told her he had killed a man and for her not to breathe it to a soul. She said Farren said he killed him for his money. Nettle says she left home the next Saturday and returned on April 13. She says Farren returned again and told her about killing a fellow to get money to keep her. He told her if she ever told it he would kill her. She went to Cairo the day afterwards and claims that Farren followed her there and made her promise that she would never tell of the killing. She gave Farren a ring to pawn to pay his fare back to Paducah. Both went to Mound City from Cairo and caught the steamer Dick Fowler for Paducah.

Farren is said to have threatened her several times, calling her up over the phone. June 7 Nettle claims she met a pal of Farren's at Fourth street and Broadway and he asked her to go luggy riding with him and Tom. She refused and she claims he offered her $30 to go. This aroused her suspicions and she feared foul play. Farren called on her again and told her he came near getting caught.

Farren Visits the Girl.
Detective Moore and the police have known of the visits of Farren to the Shelton girl at Mrs. Redmonds on Kentucky avenue. After arranging with the girl, Detective Moore secreted himself in her room last Friday night and laid in wait knowing that Farren would be there that night. After a short wait his still watch was rewarded and Farren entered. Farren and the girl were in conversation for some time, he fore any mention of the murder was made. Then the girl asked Farren who was the man he said he killed. Farren told her if she cared for him never to mention that again. The girl persisted in leading Farren on. Farren began crying and she asked him why he was crying. Then she told him, if he would stop she would never mention the killing again.

Farren left and relieved Detective Moore, who had remained in a cramped position for two hours. The arrest was planned for the following day, as Farren hung around near Second street and Kentucky avenue.

Denies It to His Uncle.
Mr. Turner Anderson, an uncle of Farren, was permitted to talk with him this morning. He told his nephew if he had killed the boy not to let him and he would help him in the trouble. Farren told Mr. Anderson he had said just for fun that he killed the boy, and strongly denied having anything to do with the murder. Several days after the body of the supposed Meloy was found Farren was taken before Police Judge Cross. At that time he was closely questioned for over two hours, but said he knew nothing of the murder. He admitted seeing a crap game and a quarrel Sunday morning about 11 o'clock. Nettle Shelton was also taken before Judge Cross and she denied everything at that time. Her statement Saturday is in direct conflict with her former one.

You are not going to overlook your city taxes and pay the penalty are you? Better go at once and see after this; the time is growing short.

Linen Shower for Miss McNichols.
At the home of Mrs. H. F. Williamson on North Sixth street, Miss Willie Willis will entertain this afternoon at 4 o'clock with a linen shower for Miss Mabel McNichols. The house will be a perfect bower of brides roses, daisies, sweet peas and ferns. At the door little Miss Barbara Nell Paxton, in her dainty frock of white, will receive the guests and by her side will stand the Misses Katherine Williamson and Mary Smith to receive the linen. In the parlor beautifully decorated with pink and white sweet peas, ferns and with amilax and tulle draped about on the woodwork and chandelier, they will be received by the hostess, Miss Willie Willis, Miss Mabel McNichols, the bride-elect, and guest of honor, Mrs. McNichols, the bride's mother, and Mrs. J. E. Williamson, in the dining room, which is exquisite in its decoration of bride's roses, tulle and ferns, the guests will be received by Mrs. Will Hinkle, Mrs. Harry Singleton and Mrs. A. G. Rhodes, three attractive brides of the past winter, and served by Mrs. J. B. Barte, Mrs. Goodson, of Dixon, and Mrs. H. F. Williamson, assisted by Misses Ethel Sights, Willie Mal Roscoe, Elizabeth Boswell, Mary Bonduant, Anna Hills, Alice Cabell and Helen Hills. One of the prettiest points of the decoration is the big round table in room which is covered with a big blue-lace center piece on which sets a big-cut glass base of brides roses and ferns and adding a light and airy touch to it is the tulle draped about the table and running up to the chandelier. The color scheme, green and white in this room is very prettily carried out in the refreshments. The tea, a delicate shade of green, and the cake white, in the hall off the dining room is the punch bowl setting on a pedestal and very effective in a bower of ferns and palms. Draped around the bowl are grape vines and bunches of green grapes. Assisted by Miss Lucy Slaughter, Miss Lucile Hart and Miss Mary H. Jeannings, Mrs. Victor Voris presides over this singularly attractive nook.

The reception hall, decorated with daisies, white tulle and amilax in profusion, is made to represent a throne room. On the big white throne at the back of which is a bank of daisies and ferns will sit Miss Nichols for the shower. Over her head is a big white wedding veil of daisies, to the clapper of which is tied a white ribbon to be tied to first package Miss McNichols will open. The Misses Katherine Williamson and Mary Smith will come down the stairs carrying the artistically draped basket of lingerie which they will deposit at the foot of the bride-elect. When she opens the first package and pulls the white ribbon attached to the clapper will fall in a shower making her as beautiful as well as a very realistic bride. Then Miss McNichols will look at each of her gifts of linen and according to the custom when she has come to look at the last, announce its giver as the next bride.

and that farmers, though receiving lower prices than last year, will nevertheless obtain liberal net results. High prices for meats may continue for a period, since more time is required for increasing supplies; but it is known that consumption of meats has been materially checked, and a very considerable increase in the supply of hogs will occur this year, which is already affecting the price of such products.

This latter fact is important inasmuch as there has been more or less apprehension of severe stringency in the American markets as soon as the crop season is fairly under way. This possibility was recognized by western bankers who have been applying the breaks and enforcing liquidation in grain and provisions. It is thus seen that corrective influences have been steadily at work. The

A Wonderful Cure
My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly, and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff. I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair, and I got a bottle and used it and after a few applications the itching stopped, my hair stopped falling out and a new hair came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, shiny and healthy.

Home Course In Live Stock Farming

XV.—Sheep Raising.

By C. V. GREGORY.

Author of "Home Course in Modern Agriculture," "Making Money on the Farm," etc.

Copyright, 1900, by American Press Association.

UNDER favorable conditions the sheep is one of the most profitable kinds of live stock that can be raised. The first essential to success in this business is a liking for it. The second is a proper location. Sheep kept on low pasture become wormy or affected with foot rot and are seldom profitable.

Sheep are able to use large amounts of rough feed that would otherwise go to waste, making economical gains on feed that other animals of the farm will not touch. They are especially good for cleaning up weedy land.

There is no better method of ridding a weed infested field of the crop which renders it worthless for agricultural purposes than to turn it over to the tender mercies of a flock of sheep. It matters little what species of weed has obtained the supremacy; it is doomed to extinction.

The Mutton Type.

For producing high class mutton Shropshires and Southdowns are largely used. They are the most perfect representatives of the mutton type, but are sometimes criticised because of their small size and consequent lack of capacity for rough feed. Where there is a large amount of roughage to be got away with some one of the large breeds, such as Cotswold or Oxford, will probably be more satisfactory.

FIG. XXVIII.—GOOD SHROPSHIRE SHEEP.

On the ranges of the west the hardy Merinos are best adapted to the conditions.

In getting a start in the sheep business, especially if you have never raised sheep, it is best to buy three or four ewes of the desired breed. In selecting ewes where mutton is to be the chief consideration considerable attention should be paid to the mutton type.

This is much the same as the meat type in other animals. They should be broad, deep and fairly long, with good spring of rib and broad, well covered back and loin. The rump should be long and the hind legs well meaty both inside and out, as this, together with the back and loin, is the most valuable part of the sheep. The quality should be good, as shown in fine head and bone. The constitution should be good, as shown by depth of chest, large nostrils and width between the fore legs.

Good quality of wool is shown by a close, even crimp. The wool should be dense on all parts of the body. It should not be harsh, and the fiber should be strong and not easily broken. There should be no dead hairs in the wool. Sheep are often trimmed so as to appear much wider and blockier than they really are. The only way to tell the real form of a trimmed sheep is by touch. In going over a sheep with the hands do not dig into the wool with the fingers, thus tearing it apart and lessening the value of the fleece, but feel with the palms of the outstretched hand. In buying ewes be sure to examine their mouths carefully. Ewes that are "down in the mouth"—that is, that are so old that their teeth are worn down to the gums—are a losing proposition.

Handling Breeding Sheep.

When ewes are bought of a breeder they will usually be bred. In raising lambs for market on any considerable scale ewes bought on the general market are a good deal cheaper, and very good results can be obtained if mated to a good, pure bred ram. The same points of form spoken of in connection with the ewe should be looked after in selecting the ram. In addition, he should show masculinity in a strong head, thick neck and large chest. His legs should be strong, especially in the pasterns, and he should not be over-fat. The ram should be from a strain of profitable producers.

Where a ram lamb is used for service fifteen or twenty ewes are as many as he can well handle. It is better and more profitable to use a more mature sire. A yearling can serve thirty to forty ewes and an old ram sixty when they are left to run with the flock all the time. A better plan is to turn the ram in with the ewes for a short time, only at morning and night, keeping him in a pen by himself the rest of the time. In this way the ram can serve double the number of ewes. It is a good plan to smear the ram's breast with paint before turning him out with the ewes. Then after he is taken out a brief glance will show just which ewes have been bred. These can be marked with ear tags or paint and the date of service recorded. These ewes should be kept in a pen by themselves for a few days until the period of heat is over.

Twenty weeks is the usual time of gestation in ewes. On the general farm the preferable time to have the lambs come is just about the time the grass is starting well. If you are in the pure bred business it will pay to have the lambs come a little earlier than this, as the larger lambs bring better prices as breeders in the fall. In order to have the ewes come in heat nearly the same time as possible a plan known as "flushing" is often used. This consists in taking them from a rather poor pasture and turning them into a luxuriant growth of rape or some other good forage. A little grain, say one-half pound a day per head, should also be given. Oats and bran, with a little oilmeal added, make one of the best rations for the ram during the breeding season. He should be given all he will clean up when in heavy service.

Winter Care.

During the winter the ewes should be fed on a ration of oats and bran, with perhaps a little corn added. Clover hay is one of the best forms of roughage. A little slange will add succulence to the ration, but it should not be fed in very large quantities. Roots are also good for this purpose. Exercise is essential. A water pasture over which the ewes can run will provide this, but they should not be made to depend on this pasture for any considerable portion of their feed. Sheep can stand a great deal of cold if their fleece does not become wet. A dry, well bedded shed, open on the south, is the best sort of winter protection.

Just before lambing the wool on the flanks and udders should be clipped. A little oilmeal should be added to the ration for two or three weeks prior to lambing. Many of the newly born lambs will have to be assisted to stand up and suck, after which they will usually be able to take care of themselves. In cold weather lambs are liable to wander away from their mothers and get chilled. The best way to save a chilled lamb is to put it in warm water for half an hour. It should be thoroughly dried before putting it back to the pen.

The lambs should be weaned when they are from three to four months old. This is a critical time in their life, as a check in growth will give parasites a chance to get a start. It is a good plan to have a fresh pasture of clover or rape to put the lambs in at this time. Rape and clover mixed and sown with oats make excellent fall pasture after the oats are harvested. Another way of getting good fall feed for lambs is to sow rape in the corn at the last cultivation. The lambs will eat the rape, weeds and lower leaves of the corn, leaving the field in excellent shape for husking without injuring the corn to any extent. The lambs should be docked and castrated while young.

Feeding the Lambs.

The lambs should be taught to eat before weaning, and a small ration of grain should be fed from that time on. There is no better feed for lambs than oats. When the lambs are on clover pasture half the grain ration may be made of corn. As a general rule it is better to avoid the holiday rush and market the lambs later in the season with a better finish. As soon as they are off pasture the grain should be increased until they are getting all they will eat. Corn and clover may make one of the best rations for fattening sheep. Before putting the lambs into the feed lot a few of the best ewes should be sorted out to replenish the flock. All unprofitable ewes or those that are getting old should be shut up and fattened as soon as the lambs are weaned. Plenty of salt should be provided for the sheep during the fattening period as well as at all other times of year. Salt is more necessary to sheep than to any other class of stock. Sheep are not very heavy drinkers, but they do need some water, and a supply should be provided at all times.

Many feeders make a practice of buying western lambs on the market and feeding them through the winter. If good stuff can be bought at right prices and feed is not too high there is considerable profit in this system.

In the eastern states considerable profit is made on "hothouse lambs." Dorsets are the best breed from which to produce this class of lambs, as they will breed out of season. The ewes are bred in May and the lambs fitted for the Easter market.

The sheep grower is not compelled to depend upon mutton alone for his profit. The wool is also a considerable item, usually amounting to enough to at least pay for the feed. Where a large number of sheep are to be sheared the work can be done more rapidly with a machine than by hand. There is also a saving in wool, as the machine clips closer.

IS INSANITY ON THE INCREASE?

MEDICAL RECORD GIVES SOME INTERESTING FACTS.

Various Causes for Conditions in This Country and Also in Europe.

MOST CASES FROM HEREDITY.

Of white individuals at least 10 years of age in the general population of the United States in 1900 80.5 per cent were native born and 19.5 per cent were foreign born, says the Medical Record, while of the white insane of known nativity enumerated in hospitals 65.7 per cent were native and 34.3 per cent were foreign born. To a nation receiving 1,000,000 of immigrants a year such a fact is of greatest significance.

During a period covering one year, and the last year of which we have any definite record, there were admitted to Ellis Island, New York, 421 insane persons. The Immigration Inspector succeeded in deporting all of this number.

Forty-nine insane persons were sent back to Austria, 37 to Germany, 28 to Hungary, 74 to Italy, 76 to Russia, 12 to Sweden and a small number to Turkey, Syria, Poland, Norway, France, Denmark and other European countries.

On October 1, 1900, there were 30,507 patients in the various hospitals for the insane and sanitariums in New York, an increase of 1,414 over the previous year. Not only is there a yearly increase in the number of the insane in New York state, but also an increase in excess of the growth of the population.

This increase during the last 20 years has reached 97 per cent, while the population has increased in the same time only 53 per cent. The rate of insanity to the general population in the state of New York, according to the latest figures, is 1 to 310. Figures from other states taken at random tell the same story of constant increase.

Idaho, for instance, gives such figures as these: Insane patients under state charge, proportion to population in 1880, about 1 in 1,300; in 1900, 1 in 769. For the state of Washington in 1880, 1 in 695; in 1900, 1 in 102. Today in Indiana there is one case of insanity in every 400 of the population. About the same ratio obtains for Illinois. In Virginia the ratio of insanity to the general population is 1 in 540.

In Connecticut the increase in insanity has not been so great as in a state with a seaport like that of Greater New York, a state with a population of which approximately 30 per cent is either foreign born or of foreign parentage and 60 per cent of its insane also either foreign born or of foreign parentage. But that there is a steady if relatively small increase in the number of the insane in our own state we cannot doubt.

The total number of insane persons under restraint in 1904 was 3,120; 1906, 3,351; 1908, 3,603. With a population for the state in 1900 of 908,000 the ratio of insane persons under restraint was 3.2 a thousand. With an estimated population for the state in 1906 of 1,000,000 the ratio of insane persons under restraint at that time was 3.3 a thousand of the population. In 1908, estimating the population at 1,025,000, the ratio rose to 3.5 a thousand, a very decided gain for so short a period.

To heredity 60 to 70 per cent of the insanity has been due, while alcoholism is given the second place. Yet we find the statement so far uncontroverted, that 50 per cent of the inmates of all the insane hospitals in the United States are descended from alcoholic parents. A study of 520 males, new admissions to the Norristown State hospital for the insane, gave the following results:

"In 46 per cent alcohol, either alone or in combination, was an important etiological factor. In 13.5 per cent they were classified as alcoholic psychoses, 10.41 per cent of the individuals and 34.9 per cent of Children and Poison.

The unguarded custom of leaving bottles of poison in family medicine chests where there are children in the house is responsible for the death of a little Leavenworth boy. It will be no consolation to the parents of the boy to realize this fact, but it is no less true.

Poisons that are used as disinfectants should be so kept that it will be impossible for an adult, much less a child, to gain access to them unless for the purpose for which they were intended. The caution against children and matches is of very small importance compared to the caution against leaving poisons within the reach of a child. It would perhaps be just as well if poisons were kept out of the household altogether; most certainly so unless with the prescription or advice of a physician. Physicians realize the danger of such instances as the one which occurred yesterday, and they seldom advise the keeping of unadulterated carbolic acid, even for disinfectant or cleaning purposes. Too much care cannot be given to such matters.—Leavenworth Times.

It is said that Professor Karl Harries, of the University of Kiel, has produced a synthetic rubber. Attempts such as this have been made time and again, but with no commercial success.

Uruguay had a foreign trade last year of $85,000,000, made up of $28,000,000 imports and $17,000,000 exports. The increase was $3,000,000 over 1908 and $10,000,000 over 1907.

Switzerland's Tongues.

It is a curious fact that the people most celebrated for love of country should, in a manner, be without a language—that is, a mother tongue. The Swiss have three official languages—German, French and Italian. About three-fourths of the population of the mountain confederation speak German, while the remainder divide four other languages among them, chiefly French and Italian, these languages being found, as a rule, in districts in close proximity to the countries wherein those languages are the principal tongue.

In Switzerland documents and notices are printed in both French and German languages. In the National assembly members deliver their speeches in either French or German, for nearly all members understand both tongues. The decrees and proclamations of the president are translated by an official interpreter and furnished to the press in both languages.—N. Y. Press.

Graduation Presents

At no other time in the life of a boy or young woman is a substantial gift so appropriate, and no occasion merits a token of approval and encouragement more.

The proud day of graduation for a boy offers a suitable time for the gift of a Watch or a Pen or Chain or Ring.

For a young woman, a Diamond is most appreciated, but whatever the amount you can afford to invest, some selection from our jewelry stock will please, best and carry the most enduring remembrance.

News of Theatres

The large crowd of people visiting Wallace park yesterday was strong testimony of how popular this favorite resort will be when weather conditions are favorable. The park is certainly this season an ideal place for an afternoon or evening visit. Aside from the benefit derived from a few hours among the green trees, there are many entertaining and inexpensive amusements. The large size of the park makes it possible for those who are seeking joyous gaiety a portion of the park has been laid out as a sort of midway where all sorts of games and other amusements can be enjoyed; for those who are seeking an hour or so of restful repose another portion of the park, away from the busy-busy of the crowd has been reserved, an indispensable part of the park is a beautiful and attractive, and to provide adequate and comfortable seating facilities. It is safe to say that with the advent of warm weather the park attendance will be really enormous.

"Corking good vaudeville" is the kind offered at the Kentucky for the three days, starting with matinee, this afternoon, and each one of the acts has been especially selected for its fitness and having made good over the big Morris circuit of Chicago and New York, who do all the bookings for the Kentucky.

Comfortably cool, even on the warmest days, makes you enjoy the new patch more.

For the first half of the week starting with the Monday matinee, the headliners will be "Three Sisters Kelley" who made a most enthusiastic hit at Louisville the past week. They are eccentric singers and whirlwind dancers and their work reminds one of Eva Tanguay. Their act is beautifully costumed, all are good singers and their act is said to be of the most refreshing kind.

Miss Ethel Gilkey, the charming singing comedienne will present a budget of the latest songs. Beautiful picture melodies and a good long reel of up to the minute moving pictures will complete the program, that will be the magnet that will draw capacity houses at every performance.

That funny little fellow, Paul Pan'ar who is just three feet and a half tall, will have a collection of very funny do-little tell, sing some songs and do the dancing.

Dr. Kilt says he'd rather draw well than spell well.

LARGE CROWD OUT FOR DECORATION

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS AT OAK GROVE.

Flowers and Flags Muck Last Resting Place of Departed Brethren.

ORATION BY JOHN G. MILLER.

About 1,500 people attended the memorial exercises of the Paducah lodges of Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah yesterday afternoon at Oak Grove cemetery. The three lodges, Mechanicsburg, Mangum and Ingleside, with a fine representation of the membership marched to the cemetery, while the members of the Ingleside lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, went to the cemetery on a special car. The ritual exercises were carried out. Attorney John G. Miller, Jr., delivered an excellent oration. All the graves were decorated with small American flags and flowers.

COUNTY HIGH

MAY BE HELD AT HEATH AFTER ALL.

Principal Must Be College Man and the Teachers Experienced.

Adoption of rules governing the county high school occupied most of the time and attention of the county school board, which met in regular monthly session today. The rules adopted prescribe that a pupil who has finished the county common schools may enter the high school without the payment of tuition. Pupils from other schools of equal standing may also enter the county high school.

Qualifications for the principalship of the school prescribe that the principal must be a high school graduate, have experience in teaching all studies in the school, and to have finished a four years' course in some reputable college or university. The qualifications for the teachers prescribe that they must be graduates of some high school, have had two years' experience in teaching, and two years' instruction in a normal school.

Citizens of Heath reported that they have raised $500 for the purpose of assisting the county school board in building the first session of the new county high school this year. The citizens of the school held the next session of the school board in the new building. The completion of the new building will govern the trustees in deciding the location of the next session of the high school. The plans and specifications for the new high school building were adopted by the board, and bids will be secured for the erection of the school.

The county school book commission will not meet until June 30, when the text books for the county schools will be adopted.

Impossible.

"But why don't you believe that I have a friend who is much more beautiful than I am?"

"Because it is impossible that she should be your friend if she is really more beautiful than you."

CADET CHAPEL DEDICATED

Old Building Will Be Changed Into Cemetery Mortuary.

West Point, N. Y., June 13.—The dedication of the new cadet chapel and bidding farewell to the old historic chapel took place today. The old cadet chapel, built in 1856, is intimately linked with the history of the academy.

The little chapel will be taken down, stone by stone, and rebuilt as a mortuary, and stand at the entrance of the post cemetery, where rest those who worshipped within its walls.

The weather greatly marred the impressiveness of the farewell ceremonies. With the rain drenching them, the cadets stood bareheaded, facing Col. H. L. Scott, the superintendent, and his staff, grouped behind Chaplain Traverser on the steps of the vacated chapel, while the apostrophe and prayers were said and the cadets sang "The Corps," a song written by former Chaplain Herbert Shipman and dedicated to the corps of cadets.

GIVES FORTUNE

GIVES $3,000,000 FOR ST. LOUIS TECHNICAL SCHOOL.

Aged Bachelor Will Content Himself With $3,000,000 Per Annum—Strikes From Luncheon.

St. Louis, June 13.—To die poor, David Rankin, Jr., has not only given up his fortune of more than $3,000,000 to the support of his favorite school, announcement of which was made yesterday, but the $3,000,000 per annum he has reserved for his own support during the rest of his life, will revert to the institution at his death.

The David Rankin, Jr., School of Mechanical Trade, the beneficiary of his fortune, is to be enlarged and its curriculum improved, but Mr. Rankin himself does not care to talk about what he has made possible.

Mr. Rankin has never been seen on any matter of business at his home. Like his office, his home is unpretentious. It occupies three small rooms over a grocery store at Fifteenth and Washington avenues. When he enters the side door and climbs to his home he shuts out the world and declines to be seen. At his office his hours are from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Few people even in St. Louis know him personally, for he avoids publicity and shirks from the limelight. He is 75 years old, a native of Ireland and a bachelor, who has amassed his fortune in real estate and stock deals. The property he has decided to the school, which bears his name, comprises large realty tracts, his home, stock in the Rock Island railroad and four local banks.

Consistency. Counsel (to female witness)—What's your age?

Witness—Twenty-nine, sir.

Judge (looking up from his papers)—Did you not appear before me some ten years ago?

Witness—I did, my lord.

Judge—And was not your age on that occasion also 29?

Witness—It was, Your Lordship; but what I says I stick to. I'm not one of them persons who says one thing today and another tomorrow.

INSTITUTE FOR THIS PRESBYTERY

PRINCETON BODY TO INAUGURATE MOVEMENT.

The Rev. E. B. Landis, of Kentucky Avenue Church, One of the Speakers.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES

A Presbyterian institute or one day conference, has been arranged by the Princeton Second Presbyterian church (U. S. A.) Presbytery, beginning at Princeton next Tuesday. Paducah has been included in the itinerary and June 27 has been selected as the date for the meeting here at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church. The itinerary is: Princeton, June 21; Madisonville, June 22; Hopkinsville, June 23; Kuttawa, June 24; Paducah, June 27; Mayfield, June 28; Mt. Pleasant, June 29, and Hindarville June 30.

The presbytery will spend one day at each church, the purpose being to inform the church people of the educational conditions of the presbytery. Special subjects touching all lines of church work will be touched upon. The Rev. E. B. Landis, pastor of the Kentucky Avenue church, has been included among the speakers and will accompany the presbytery over its route. Services will be held in the church and a picnic dinner will be served.

Children's Day.

Children's day exercises were held at several churches yesterday and were successful. It was an ideal day and the attendance was large and appreciative. Yesterday morning exercises were held at the Broadway Methodist, Fountain Avenue Methodist and Third Street Methodist and Good Shepherd house churches, while last night exercises were held at the First Christian church.

The sum of $85 was raised at the First Christian church's exercises last night for Foreign Missions. This church is now supporting a missionary in the foreign field. The exercises were well attended. Yesterday morning the Rev. Fite preached a strong sermon, using for his text Zach. 1:3: "There Shall Be In That Day Upon the Hills of Israel 'Holy Unto the Lord.'"

Prayers in all branches of life were touched upon while he showed it was the Lord's purpose to make everything holy. At the prayer meeting services Wednesday evening he will speak on "Rachel," the third lecture on the subject of "Women of the Bible."

Communion.

Communion services were held at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning and it was announced that there had been a total of 22 additions for the past three months. Miss Mabel Shelton sang at the morning service, and Mrs. Sherrill, of Chicago, at the evening service. A large congregation is urged to be on hand at the prayer meeting Wednesday evening when the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Burwell, will speak on the "Lord's Prayer."

At Broadway.

A large congregation was present at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday morning at Children's day exercises. Last night the usual preaching was held. Mr. Hain sang the offertory.

First Baptist.

Large congregations were present at the First Baptist church yesterday, Sunday evening, June 26, the pastor, the Rev. M. E. Dodd, will preach a special sermon on the subject of "Saving Our Girls."

Germans Churches.

Children's day services will be held at the German Evangelical and Guthrie Avenue Methodist churches next Sunday.

South Side.

The Rev. J. H. Pearson, pastor of the Third Street Methodist church, preached on "Quench Not the Spirit" last night at the Guthrie Avenue Methodist church.

Broadway Methodist.

Yesterday was a red letter day at the Broadway Methodist church. The morning service was given to the Children's day. The program as published was carried out in perfect order. The church and large platform was decorated with lanterns, palms and cut flowers. The church was crowded to overflowing with fathers, mothers and friends to witness the occasion. Fifty-one children received promotion and the certificates were presented by the pastor and Prof. J. D. Smith. The pastor baptized three infants and received one into the church. The evening service was largely attended and the pastor delivered an edifying sermon on "What Is Christian Baptism," taking the great commission as his text. Next Sunday evening he will answer the question, "Who are subjects for baptism?" Prof. W. T. Haru sang the evening vespers at the League service, and the offertory at the hour of preaching. Prof. J. A. Canaway led the devotions. The little class had 120 in attendance and a number of new scholars and visitors.

First Baptist.

The third sermon of a series on "Christian Baptism" was delivered last night by the pastor, the Rev. M.

E. Dodd. His theme was "Christian Baptism—The Administrator." He devoted his attention to the persons qualified to baptize candidates, and traced how it was conferred down from God to John the Baptist and on down to his servants. Next Sunday evening he will conclude the series with a sermon upon the design of baptism. In the morning Dr. Dodd delivered a forcible sermon upon "The Peace That Passes All Understanding."

Cumberland Church.

Two delightful services were held yesterday at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, corner Twelfth and Trimble, as the beginning of the revival. The Rev. T. C. Wilson, of Louisville, who is to assist the pastor, will arrive in the city this afternoon. His subject tonight will be "The Treasure in Earthen Vessels."

The Rev. Mr. Froese preached yesterday morning from the subject, "A Midnight Hilde And What Came of It," which was heard by a large congregation. More than a hundred people were turned away, not being able to find room in the church. A delightful Christian Endeavor service was held yesterday afternoon, in which the Christian Endeavor society of the Tenth Street Christian church and the society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church were held jointly. The meeting was led by the Rev. Mr. Wyatt, of the Tenth Street church. He chose for his subject the theme, "God Knows." A number of responses made the meeting full of interest. The revival service will continue afternoon and evening indefinitely. Service at 3 and 7:45 p. m.
